EVERS GREATEST OF BALL PLAYERS

(By Tim Murname, Sporting Editor.

(on Globe.)
One great all-round ball player will make a ball team, as Cobb has De-troit, Wagner, Pittsburg, or Mathew-san New York, but where can you find these men?

I heard quite an argument between a lot of crack ball players at Mc-Graw's place in New York during the big meeting about who was the most valuable ball player in the country to a team, and it finally sifted down to Wagner of Pittsburg, Evers of Chi-cago, and Cobb of Detroit.

Hugh Jennings figured that Ty Cobb was the most valuable man in the country to a team.

"He is a remarkable all-round batsman, who can beat out bunts and then clean up the bases with a long drive, clean up the bases with a long drive, and the greatest run getter of the age, always in condition and a fighter from start to finish," said Hugh.

McGraw thought that "Hans" Wagner was the most valuable man for a team, as he was a remarkable allround batsman, a run getter, always in the game, and, placed in the infield, full of inspiration.

Hugh Duffy and Joe Kelly picked Johnny Evers as the most valuable man for a ball team, on the ground that he was a natural leader, as well as a remarkable all-round ball payer.

Evers' great knowedge of inside ball, his quickness in taking advan-

Evers' great knowedge of inside ball, his quickness in taking advan-tage of his opponent's weakness, gave him the edge, in the way Duffy and Kelly figured it out.

William Keeler, Capt. Anson, Tom McCarthy, Roger Bresnahan and Jack Dunn took a hand in the fanning bee. and while the general opinion seemed to give Wagner the best of it, the fine line of dope put by Duffy and Kelly forced the gathering to admit that Evers was a candy kid. Evers sat back with a friend and enjoyed the com-

It was the general impression of this congress of baseball talent that Evers was about the only prominent member of the great Chicago Cub team that had not reached the height of his work on the ball field.

All the players of the once invinc-ible team were slowing up, some growing tired and indifferent as a result of remaining too long in one city, where the public has grown care-less unless the team is always in the

It's the leader this year that counts in baseball, and not the champions of one year ago. The fact is, there is too much expected of the average ball player, and now that the National League has decided to play a sched-ule of 168 games, it will be more difficult than ever to keep the boys keyed up from start to finish.

Jimmy Collins the famous old Boston player, was with the Minneapolis ciub last season in the American as-sociation, and has told me that the one unpleasant feature in that league was the large number of games played, 168.

"Before the season was two-thirds over, said Collins, "many of the players were tired out, especially the pitchers, and I heard nothing but complaints from the players, who felt they were being overworked."

To do their best ball playing the boys must have an appetite for each game. If overworked, they lose the dash and staying powers necessary to give the public a fair run for its money, and in time the attendance is bound to fall off. Champagne without bubbles is tame stuff. Baseball games without ginger are worse. You can overwork ball players, not the ones who save their salary wings, but the willing fellow who is out for every game, bent on landing the mon-

WOLGAST AND NELSON FIGHT MUCH ALIKE.

The Sturdy Lightweights Have Same Style of Milling.

(By W. W. Naughton.) San Francisco, Jan. 13.-Just how many theatrical engagements Battling Nelson was compelled to cancel was not made known in his announcement that he would leave for the coast to begin training for Ad Wolgast, but the chances are that the Dane garnered everything worth while along the footlight route before he turned his thoughts to fighting again. It is satisfactory to learn at that that Nelson is coming direct to San Francisco and that he will lose no time in beginning his preparations for his Washington's birthday contest with Ad Wolgast. Sometimes these world's champions like to keep the sporting public guessing as to their intentions, but Nelson apparently is not of that variety. He says he is going to get right into harness without delay and the chances are he will be in camp at Millet's before two weeks Before accepting the offer of a sum of $12,000 to figure in a championship event with Wolgast, the world's champion lightweight filrted for awhile with the English matchmakers who wanted him to box Freddie Welsh either in London town or at some point in Wales. Nelson Intimated that he might accept the English offer, but there was never the slightest danger of the Battler doing anything of the kind. He simply used the British fight handlers as a counter irri-tant and by doing so probably secured a bigger certainty in the money line than he would have done if there had

Nelson knows better than anybody easy victory for the favorite. Royal that he would be at a disadvantage fighting in an English ring. The rules provide for clean breaks and the Battler would be able to make absolute ly no headway under such conditions.

If he tells the truth—now that he has secured the financial terms he was after he had no idea of crossing the pond to box Welsh. pond to box Welsh.

If Nelson were asked to choose between Welsh and Wolgast for an opponent in this country even he would probably name Wolgast. Welsh is one of your fly away boxers who keeps jumping in with stinging stabs and jumping in with stinging stabs and then hopping out of harm's way. With an opponent of that kind all Nelson can do is to stand the gaff and wait till the man in front of him begins to tire. If the other fellow happens to be as well conditioned as the Bat-tler the outlook is none too good for Wolgast fights the way Nelson fights. He goes close to his man and becomes busy. Nelson would rather tackle a man of that description any day than a high-stepper like English Engiller. lish Freddie Welsh.

HOUSE ADOPTS DRASTIC BILL

Washington, Jan. 12.-Drastic ac tion looking toward the suppression of the "white slave" traffic in the United States was taken up in the house today.

If the bill is adopted by the senate it will be unlawful for any person to provide transportation from one state to another for any person who engages in prostitution or other immoral practices. The mere purchase of a practices. The mere purchase of a ticket for a woman whereby she would be "enabled or assisted" to go from state to state for immoral purposes, will render the purchaser liable to ten years' imprisonment and a $5,000 fine. Immoral alien women are to be deported whenever they are discovered and their procurers are to be excluded, deported and punished.
"It is intended that this measure shall be drastic," declared Represent-ative Bennett of New York, in charge of the measure, and co-author of it.

"This infamous 'white slave' traffic must be broken up, and the immigra-tion committee believes the pending neasure will survive every constitu tional test to which it may be sub jected ' Chairman Mann of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. who said yesterday that he was not prosed to the bill, sprang a surprise upon its defenders by aiming to re-commit the measure. The motion was lost by a vote of 36 to 174. Whatever opposition there was to certain sections of the pending bill few members seemed anxious to have themselves placed on record as vot-ing against it and only an oral vote was taken on its passage.

EAMES WINS WORLD'S BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP

New York, Jan. 12.-Fred Eames of Denver won the world's championship at three cushion carom billiards tonight from Alfred De Oro, Cuban title holder in the third block of fifty points, by a final score of 150 to 137. De Oro played a plucky uphill game, scoring 76 to his opponent's 50 to-night, but was unable to overcome the lead of 39 points which Eames had at the end of the second block last night when the score stood 100 to 61. Eames high run was 4 to De Oro's five

COHEN AND GIRL ARE TAKEN HOME

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Roberta De Jan-on, the Philadelphia heiress, and Frederick Cohen, the waiter, with whom she eloped on December 29, left for Philadelphia today with Detective Sergeants A. J. Emanuel and James Scanlan. The party is due tomorrow afternoon in Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia detectives observed the greatest secrecy in getting the elopers out of the city. They were taken to the depot in a closed carriage, were smuggled into the baggage room and taken to a room below in a freight elevator. From here they hurried aboard the train and the curtains of the drawing room and sections reserved were drawn.

Cohen's picture and measurements by the Bertillion system were taken.

THIRTY DIE IN

Marshfield, Ore., Jan. 12.-The Southern Pacific company's steamer Czarina which left this port for San Francisco this afternoon lies a total wreck on the north spit of the Coos Bay bar and thirty-one lives are be-lieved to have been lost. There ap-pears to be no hope that any of the rew will reach shore alive.

The steamer left port this evening during a gale. Tremendous seas were breaking over the bar as the Czarina attempted to pass out into the ocean those on shore who had gathered to watch the departure of the boat sud-denly were startled to see the Czarina sweeping toward the North Spit. Her engines apparently had been disabled The heavy seas seemed almost to en-velope the steamer and she drifted rapidly on to the spit at a point about a mile above the jetty. The disabled

From 2,600 Acres of Asparagus You Get the Choice Selections

Our Asparagus beds occupy 2,600 acres. Our canning plants are located near the beds, and the Asparagus is cooked fresh and canned the day it is cut.

The best Asparagus must be gathered at just the proper time to insure its tenderness. Even an hour or two makes much difference, for a spear may grow an inch in that time.

The quality of Asparagus is determined by the thickness of the spears and by its tenderness. California

Asparagus is famed the world over for its delicious flavor. Because of the care and proper handling, the Asparagus we can is also noted for its tenderness, size and color.

Most of the choice selections from these great Asparagus beds we pack under our favorite brand, Del Monte. The spears are carefully sorted to a uniform size and excellence, and canned, cooked, ready to serve as a salad, or may be heated.

There are about twenty-five spears in every Del Monte can. The price per can is 35c everywhere.

So rough was the sea that all efforts of the life saving crew to launch a boat were in vain while attempt after attempt to shoot a line from shore across the vessel also failed. The distance was too great.

New York, Jan. 12.—There was a further big break in the cotton market today, making the third sensa tional slump in prices since the move ment started early last week. Panic stricken longs in all parts of the world seemed to be liquidating their cotton regardless of prices, and the action of the market showed such inexcitement and demoralization as finds a parallel only in the series of sensational movements following the collopse of the Sully boom.

market has been steadily advancing and toward the end of last month prices had reached a level which since the Civil war had only been equalled when Sully was at the height of his fame, March contracts, selling at 16.17 and May at 16. 46.

But the culminating point of today's decline, March contracts sold at 14.60 and May at 14.78, a loss from the high record of from 7.85 to 8.40 per bale, almost all of which has occurred during the last week.

The decline from the closing prices of last night amounted to more than $3.50 per bale.

There does not appear to have been any change in general trade to warrant the almost unprecedented slump in prices and in contrast to the Sully year no financial difficulties have been precipitated.

Salt Lake City, Jan. 12.-Disconnected in the extreme were the statements made by a woman taken from the Oregon Short Line train in this city shortly before 10 o'clock this morning by Patrolman Gillespie. The weman was accompanied by a big brown eyed baby boy about 14 months old, who like the woman, was well dressed. When taken to the police station the baby made a hit with every person who entered the chief's office, while his mother was being questioned by the officers. He was not old enough to talk, but as he toddled about the office with a nursing bottle in his hand he made a friend of every man in the office. At noon today the mother and child were taken in charge by Matron Gifford, who will attend to their wants until the husband of the woman can be heard from.

The local police have learned that the woman is Mrs. J. S. McMichael and that her husband is a civil or mining engineer near Twin Falls, Ida. The woman seemed dazed as she terday,

Of Interest to the Public

December, January and February are the months for big lighting bills. Anticipating that "Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before," we published a series of educational advertisements during October and November on the economies of the Tung sten Lamp, commonly called bulbs and globes.

We told you to use a Tungsten in the room where you use the most light-it would not be economy to place them where you now use four and eight candle lamps. The smallest Tungstens are twenty-five candle power and use forty watts of electricity every hour while burning An eight-candle Edison lamp uses forty watts per hour, therefore in this case you would not economize in our rent, but you would get twenty-flye candles instead of eight candles for the same amount of current consumed. The sixteen-candle Edison lamb consumes sixty-five watts of electric ity each hour while burning.

The twenty-five-candle Tungster consumes forty watts per hour, in this the Tungsten saves you 38 per cent in the current used and 36 per cent more light received.

In the store if you change to the new lamp and do not increase the illumination, you will save 38 to 10 per cent of the current formerly used. The demand for increased illumination tion will no doubt encourage von to displace thirty-candle Edison lamps and in their place install eighty to 100-candle Tungstens. This will in crease the illumination 150 per cent and your bills from 12 to 20 per cent. Our engineers are at your service to assist you in arranging your illamination to get the greatest effect
